

Brian Jund

President

National Benefit Partners

Brian Jund is the President of National Benefit Partners West Coast operations, and a Managing Partner of parent company U.S. Employee Benefits Services Group. Brian joined National Benefit Partners (NBP) in 2006 as the Director of Sales & Marketing, and then became President of the West Coast Operations in 2012.

NBP is an independent marketing organization specializing in voluntary benefits and delivering turn-key product and service platforms to our Allied Distributors. Our mission is to provide comprehensive benefit solutions to employees and their families through our Allied Distributor partners across the country. Our national footprint provides leverage enabling our Allied Distributors to deliver the most competitive and affordable benefits that meet and exceed their customers' expectations.